

Group work

- Prepare a budget for a country level training.
- Cap-Net contributes up to 50% of the costs, total around US$ 15.000
- Some budget lines need finance contributions and others are in-kind
- You would like to have a field trip only if it brings an added value in terms of content
- You need to decide if participants are from the place where the course is hosted or if they come from other cities, and how to deal with this decision and costs
- The course needs at least two experts trainers, and some invited specialists to deliver one session each, which could be a case study
- Contents are based on one of Cap-Net's training manual
- There is interest from a couple of network members in other countries who wish to attend the course and later replicate it at their own institutions
- The course needs to be well organized and coordinated, administrated, and reported
